What Is AuburnHacks?

We are Auburn University's first student-organized programming event that strives to promote technical innovation and highlight students' skills and abilities. Partnering with Major League Hacking for the first time, we aim to showcase the brightest students and their talents.

Why Sponsor Us?

On February 2 - 3, 2019, AuburnHacks will host 250 participants not just from Auburn University but from schools all over the country. Thus, it will be a fantastic avenue to recruit prospective talent from near and far as well as showcase your brand.

Having a presence at our event will give you the chance to observe first-hand how participants solve non-trivial problems.

We wish to provide our participants with the best resources and accommodations. Since MLH events are almost entirely sponsor-funded, we need your help not only to make this event happen but also to make it as exciting as possible!

If you are interested, please reach us at staff@auburnhacks.com!
